Florida Virtual School chooses 360Ed as Global Service Partner

Orlando, Fla., January 14, 2009 – 360Ed, Inc. announces that it has agreed to be a Global Service Channel Partner for the Florida Virtual School. The Florida Virtual School is the nation’s largest state-led virtual K-12 education provider with over 100,000 enrollments annually. 360Ed will partner on the sales and service of over 90 courses in 30 states, including the District of Columbia and international clients.

K-12 virtual education solutions are rapidly growing throughout the world. The opportunity for students to learn at their own pace by using today’s innovative technologies is the next progression in the evolution of education. “The partnership with the Florida Virtual School is a significant moment for 360Ed” says Ben Noel, Chief Executive Officer of 360Ed, Inc. “We look forward to a long relationship in the development and distribution of Florida Virtual School content. The leadership role that FLVS has forged over the past decade is substantial and we are honored to help support their continued leadership in the growing world of virtual education”.

The courses provided through the Florida Virtual School Global Services are available to individual students, public districts, virtual programs and private schools across the country. The licensing models range from content only to a full service global school with state and nationally certified teachers. For more information about courses, visit www.flvs.net.
